

```
{
  "ruler_of_the_chart": {
    "title": "Ruler of the Chart - Medieval Astrology Perspective",
    "overview": {
      "modern_approach": "Modern astrology usually gives this role to the planet who rules the sign on the Ascendant",
      "medieval_approach": "The medieval tradition places special consideration on planets that represent important aspects of the native - influences on the soul or personality",
      "key_difference": "Modern ruler of Ascendant only represents one specific part of chart. Medieval tradition seeks planets with authority over broader aspects of native's life."
    },
    "historical_development": {
      "hellenistic_period": {
        "key_positions": [
          "Prorogator (would become hyleg in medieval astrology)",
          "Domicile Master (Oikodespotes)",
          "Kurios (Lord)"
        ],
        "roles": {
          "prorogator": "Connected to life force and vitality",
          "domicile_master": "Responsible for the life path of the native",
          "kurios": "Indicates how well the life path is carried out or made manifest"
        },
        "porphyry_method": {
          "prorogator": "Identified first",
          "domicile_master": "Planet who ruled the sign the Prorogator occupied",
          "kurios": "Planet who rules over some important place in nativity and is more fit to do so based on placement. Cadent or combust planets not likely to fill this role."
        },
        "ptolemy_method": {
          "prorogator": "Either Sun or Moon provided they are in 1st, 11th, 10th, 9th, or 7th houses. If neither are so situated, the planet with most authority in position of Sun, Moon, Ascendant, and Lot of Fortune.",
          "note": "Ptolemy makes no explicit mention of a ruler of nativity"
        },
        "firmicus_maternus_methods": {
          "method_1": "Planet located in favorable houses in its own house or terms",
          "method_2": "Planet in whose terms Sun and Moon are found (Sun by day, Moon by night)",
          "method_3": "Ruler of the exaltation of the Moon",
          "method_4": "Planet whose sign the Moon enters after leaving the one at birth"
```

```
(universally accepted per Maternus)"
    },
    },
    "medieval_period": {
        "name": "Almuten of the Figure",
        "definition": "A compound almuten - planet that holds the most dignity in several specific degrees of the zodiac",
        "equivalent": "Roughly the medieval equivalent to the Hellenistic Domicile Master",
        "note": "No planet fulfills role similar to the Kurios",
        "abraham_ibn_ezra_method": {
            "five_places_of_life": [
                "Place of Sun (by day)",
                "Place of Moon (by night)",
                "Place of conjunction or opposition of luminaries (whichever occurs first prior to birth)",
                "Ascending degree (Ascendant)",
                "Lot of Fortune"
            ],
            "connection_to_life": "These places are directly tied into concept of life.
One needed a planet to serve as hyleg (hilaj in Arabic, 'releaser') to suggest native lived for any length of time.",
            "eligible_hylegs": [
                "Sun",
                "Moon",
                "Lot of Fortune",
                "Syzygy (New or Full Moon prior to birth)",
                "Ascendant"
            ],
            "calculation_method": {
                "step_1": "Identify degrees of Sun, Moon, Lot of Fortune, Ascendant, and prenatal syzygy",
                "step_2": "Determine who rules the domicile, exaltation, triplicity, term,
and face of each degree",
                "step_3": "Award points: Domicile = 5, Exaltation = 4, Triplicity = 3, Term = 2, Face = 1",
                "step_4": "Consider accidental dignity based on house placement",
                "step_5": "Award house points: 1st = 12, 10th = 11, 7th = 10, 4th = 9, 11th = 8, 5th = 7, 2nd = 6, 9th = 5, 8th = 4, 3rd = 3, 12th = 2, 6th = 1", "step_6": "Superior planets (Mars, Jupiter, Saturn) receive extra points based on relationship to Sun",
                "step_7": "Planet with most points is the almuten of the figure"
            },
            "superior_planet_bonus": {
                "condition_1": "Sun separating from superior planet, planet 15°-60° from Sun = 3 points",
```

```
"condition_2": "Sun separating from superior planet, planet 60°-90° from Sun
= 2 points",
  "condition_3": "Sun separating from superior planet, planet 90° to first station = 1 point"
},
"note_on_prenatal_syzygy": {
  "conjunctional_chart": "Prenatal New Moon - take degree of conjunction",
  "preventional_chart": "Prenatal Full Moon - take degree of Moon (Ptolemy, Dorotheus) or degree of luminary above horizon (Ezra)"
},
"point_assignment_debate": {
  "later_system": "Triplicity = 3, Term = 2 (likely younger system)", "earlier_system": "Term = 3, Triplicity = 2 (likely original, relates to significance of term lord over body)",
  "note": "By time of al-Qabisi (early to mid 10th century), triplicity being awarded more points was in practice"
}
},
"renaissance_period": {
  "name": "Lord of the Geniture",
  "reason_for_name_change": "Uncertain - perhaps to remove Arabic influence ('almuten' = Latin transliteration of Arabic 'al mutazz' meaning 'the victor') or make title more natural to English speaking world",
  "william_lilly_method": {
    "primary_opinion": "Planet who has most essential and accidental dignities in the Figure, is posited best and elevated most in the scheme",
    "alternative_method": "Planet with most essential dignities in Ascendant, Midheaven, place of Sun, Moon, and Lot of Fortune (misidentifies Midheaven as life-giving place)",
    "definition": "Planet who in Essential and Accidental dignities is most powerful in the whole scheme of heaven",
    "note": "Lilly is advocating alternative calculation method to Almuten of Figure, not creating separate tool. Lord of Geniture and Almuten of Figure are the same concept."
  }
}
},
"uses_and_interpretations": {
  "psychological_effects": {
    "practitioners": ["William Lilly", "Firmicus Maternus"], "maternus_approach": "Describes effects ruling planet has on native both physically and psychologically",
    "lilly_statement": "The whole actions of the native will more or less partake of the nature of that planet and so his conditions, complexion, temperament, and manners shall be much regulated to the properties assigned that planet."
```

```
    },
    "health_and_timing": {
      "ptolemy_use": "Utilizes this planet as potential Prorogator (his version of hyleg), with malefic directions to this planet being indicative of difficult health periods",
      "note": "Ptolemy utilizes different system for discerning qualities of soul:
Moon for animal spirit, Mercury for rational spirit"
    },
    "spiritual_and_magical": {
      "personal_daemon": {
        "porphyry_iamblichus": "Ruler of nativity imparts personal daemon to each individual",
        "iamblichus_view": "Daemon is responsible for thoughts and actions",
        "iamblichus_quote": "He likewise himself directs the private life of the soul, and whatever the conclusions we may arrive at by inference and reasoning, he himself imparts to us the principles. We think and do just such things as he brings to us by way of thought.",
        "porphyry_view": "Guardian spirit can be ascertained through ruler of nativity. Tells which planetary chain a person's spirit belongs to.", "iamblichus_disagreement": "Personal daemon is something soul elects prior to incarnation, occurs above sphere of planets"
      },
      "picatrix_teachings": {
        "spiritual_path": "Almuten important consideration in spiritual path and magical techniques",
        "planetary_pairs_and_tripartite_soul": {
          "appetite": {
            "planets": ["Moon", "Venus"],
            "venus_focus": "Seeks love and sexual pleasures",
            "moon_focus": "Seeks food and comforts"
          },
          "heart": {
            "planets": ["Sun", "Mars"],
            "mars_focus": "Seeks contention and confrontation",
            "sun_focus": "Seeks authority and command"
          },
          "mind": {
            "planets": ["Jupiter", "Mercury"],
            "jupiter_focus": "Drawn to philosophy and religion",
            "mercury_focus": "Drawn to sciences and mathematics"
          },
          "saturn": {
            "note": "Isolated in this scheme, not naturally associated with aspect of tripartite soul",
            "focus": "Drawn to isolation and contemplation as well as more occult studies"
```

```

    }
    },
    "spiritual_rebalancing": "Once ruler and its focus ascertained, native would seek to rebalance spiritual life by participating in activities more proper to the mind",
    "magical_use": "Petitions from planets more effective for individuals who have that planet well-placed or prominent in nativity. Being blessed by or in similitude of planet makes it more likely to answer mage's requests."
    },
    "theurgic_approach": {
        "iamblichus_suggestion": "Theurgic rites using appropriate sunthemata to get in touch with this spirit who could lead them to form of salvation that detaches them somewhat from fate"
    }
}
},
"terminology_equivalents": {
    "hellenistic": {
        "domicile_master": "Oikodespotes - responsible for life path",
        "kurios": "Lord - indicates how well life path is carried out"
    },
    "medieval": {
        "almuten_of_figure": "Compound almuten with most dignity in several specific degrees"
    },
    "renaissance": {
        "lord_of_geniture": "Same concept as almuten of figure, different name"
    },
    "modern": {
        "ruler_of_chart": "Often simply ruler of Ascendant"
    }
},
"key_concepts": {
    "hyleg_hilaj": "Releaser - planet necessary to suggest native lived for any length of time. Only Sun, Moon, Lot of Fortune, syzygy, and Ascendant eligible.",
    "prorogator": "Hellenistic concept that became hyleg in medieval astrology",
    "life_giving_places": "Sun, Moon, Lot of Fortune, Ascendant, prenatal syzygy - places directly tied to concept of life",
    "tripartite_soul": "Plato's system: appetite (stomach/epithymetikon), heart (thymoeides), mind (logistikon)", "sunthemata": "Ritual objects and symbols used in theurgic practices to connect with planetary spirits",
    "planetary_chains": "Marsilio Ficino's concept - spiritual hierarchies associated with each planet"
},
"calculation_summary": {

```

```
    "modern_simple": "Ruler of Ascendant sign",
    "porphyry": "Ruler of sign containing Prorogator",
    "ptolemy": "Planet with most authority in position of Sun, Moon, Ascendant, Lot of Fortune",
    "firmicus_maternus": "Planet whose sign Moon enters after leaving sign at birth",
    "ibn_ezra_almuten": "Weighted point system: dignities in 5 life places + house placement + superior planet bonuses",
    "william_lilly": "Most essential and accidental dignities, best positioned and most elevated in scheme"
  },
  "significance": {
    "psychological": "Describes character, temperament, and manner of native",
    "physical": "Physical characteristics and appearance",
    "spiritual": "Connection to personal daemon and planetary chain",
    "life_path": "Responsible for overall trajectory and manifestation of life path",
    "existential": "Offers insight into question 'Why am I here?'"
  },
  "source": "https://www.medievalastrologyguide.com/ruler-of-the-chart",
  "author": "Medieval Astrology Guide"
}
```